FROM THE STATION MANAGER

To be South African is to be resilient. Now, as we ride the storm of Covid-19 while parts of our country are still smouldering from flames and livelihoods have been destroyed by looting, we cannot remain isolated in our resilience, but need act as a united front in the war against crime, hunger and poverty. Current figures show that approximately 75% of our local community are now living below the bread line. MalutiFM has experienced its share of challenges since the pandemic started, but through the grace of God we have survived as a team.

"Always appear to be graceful and elegant like a swan on a lake but paddling furiously underneath the surface of the water", is a mantra of one of our presenters, Emaurans Fourie.

Emaurans is a well-known personality in Bethlehem and Clarens. A past pupil of Witteberg High School, daughter of the late At Fourie who was town treasurer for many years. She often dreamt of being a radio presenter and had her sights set on East Coast Radio from weekends spent in KwaZulu-Natal. However, the day she sent a live request to Radio Maluti for a song for her dad, her dream was about to be realised. The following day, the station manager called her to ask her to come in for a voice test.

After a break from radio, Emaurans' silky-smooth voice and graceful manner have returned to enhance the airwaves of MalutiFM. The programmes that Emaurans presents not only reflect her passion for history and antiques which were passed on to her by her mother, but also her love of the farming community. Each Tuesday, her program Land & Sand proudly sponsored by Skade Genade hits the airwaves at 14:00 with the focus firmly on farmers. Her Thursday program, Kaleidoskoop, sponsored by The Udder Place is not to be missed.

Community projects are also close to her heart. Emaurans was the driving force behind the MalutiFM Christmas Carnival for the children of CTK in December. With rain pouring down on the day, Emaurans paddled furiously to ensure the children had a party. It was not what had been planned, but the giant snakes together with the Clarens Street Performers and the arrival of Mother Christmas, all made for an unforgettable party for the children.

As we navigate uncertain times, our future depends on how we paddle through the waters of our lake. Let's take a leaf out of Emaurans' book and face our challenges with grace and a passion for our community, remembering those who are less fortunate than ourselves.
